DOCTOR OF MINISTRY IN PASTORAL LEADERSHIP
REAL PRESENCE. REAL PREPARATION.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

• 30 credits beyond MDiv or equivalent
• Coursework completed on campus in convenient January and July terms
• Immerse yourself in a community of Anglican worship that prays the Office and celebrates the Eucharist daily
• Take advantage of our unique 2-week Doctoral Seminar, introducing you to research methodology and designed to help active ministers craft and complete meaningful DMin projects
• Draw on our strengths in Ascetical Theology, Liturgics, Formation and Catechesis

Learning for Leadership. A Nashotah House DMin is designed around lives engaged in full-time, fruitful ministry in the church. Whether you've been living your ordained or professional vocation for three years or thirty, our program is for those who are ready to combine theory with reflective practice and become the best leader that you can be, wherever God has called you to serve.

Our Doctor of Ministry is for those ready to push themselves into deeper engagement with the Bible, Christian Theology, Ascetical Theology (Christian Spirituality), and the study of Liturgy with an eye to direct and practical application to the lives of those in your spiritual care through your teaching and preaching. The DMin Project, supervised by resident and affiliate faculty, calls you to creatively engage contemporary culture, discovering new visions and innovative tools to share the Good News in our ever-changing world.

Imagine a program where today's leaders come together to worship, pray, study, and produce the tools for the church of tomorrow. That's Real Presence. That's Real Preparation.

For Information on Academic Programs
www.nashotah.edu/visit
DOCTOR OF MINISTRY IN PASTORAL LEADERSHIP

Retreat from your day-to-day life of ministry and take up residence on our quiet, park-like wooded campus on a private lake, yet only 10 minutes from coffee shops and shopping and 40 minutes from the Milwaukee airport.

As your mind is refreshed in the classroom, you’ll find your body and spirit renewed by the majestic surroundings and the life of daily workshop, exemplifying the transcendent liturgy, practical catechesis, and solid exegesis that typified the Oxford Movement of Anglicanism. The refreshing fellowship that takes place on campus, whether chatting in the classroom eating meals in the refectory, or relaxing with an evening in the Common Room... it is a great opportunity to connect and engage with other people active in a variety of ministry contexts leading to deep and lasting friendships among colleagues in the field. Some students even bring their families along and stay on campus an extra week, taking advantage of the on-site playground and beach.

The DMin program is designed chiefly for ecclesial practitioners (priests, pastors, chaplains, catechists, Christian educators, etc.) rather than scholars. The degree equips you to think theologically and critically about practical ministry, guiding you as you craft new and visionary programs and ministries for the rest of you ministerial career.

“...I felt as if the primary goal was to shape me as a scholar. I’ve appreciated Nashotah House taking a primary interest in forming me as a priest. The academics are challenging and engaging, but this place is unique in that is has had even more of an effect on my soul than my mind. I’ll always appreciate that about the House.”
- Fr. Gary Ball, DMin Student

Do you have doctoral-level credits earned at another accredited seminary in the past 10 years?
These may be transferable. Contact us for your individualized transcript audit.

Contact your Admissions Counselor, Mallory Jordan admissions@nashotah.edu  262.646.6519