Department of Education Program Integrity Rule

WHEREAS, federal student financial aid provides a critical source of funding to help keep colleges affordable for Wisconsin students and working families; and

WHEREAS, the Final Rule adopted by the U.S. Department of Education at 75 Fed. Reg. 66832-66975 (October 29, 2010), commonly known as the Program Integrity Rule, was instituted for the purpose of improving integrity in the programs authorized under Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, (HEA), by amending the regulations for institutional eligibility under the HEA; and

WHEREAS, HEA § 101(a)(2) defines an institution of higher education to be an educational institution in any state that is legally authorized within such state to provide a program of education beyond secondary education; and

WHEREAS, the Program Integrity Rule further requires that an institution of higher education make the appropriate contact information available to enable a student or prospective student to file complaints with an institution's accreditor, state approval or licensing entity, or other agency that would appropriately handle a student's complaint, and that the state should exercise the primary role and responsibility for student consumer protection against fraudulent or abusive practices by an institution of higher education; and

WHEREAS, a state may fulfill its oversight role for student complaints against institutions of higher education through a state agency, the state attorney general, other appropriate state officials, or a combination of state agencies and state officials; and

WHEREAS, according to issued guidance from the U.S. Department of Education in the Dear Colleague Letter dated March 17, 2011, a state may rely on a governing board or central office of a state-wide system of public institutions if the state has made the determination that the governing board or central office is sufficiently independent to provide successful oversight of complaints for the institutions in that system; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to statutory authority, the University of Wisconsin System Board of Regents, the University of Wisconsin System Office of Administration, the Wisconsin Technical College System Board, and the Wisconsin Technical College System Office are governing boards and/or central offices of their respective state-wide systems of public institutions; and
