GENERAL NOTES ABOUT LIBRARY USE

LIBRARY HOURS: The library is staffed Monday-Friday 9:00 am -12:30 pm and 1:00 pm-4:20 pm, but is accessible to all seminarians, faculty, staff, and spouses at any time via the combination door locks. If you use the library during off hours, please turn off all lights not being used, and be sure the doors lock properly.

AFTER-HOURS LIBRARY ACCESS AND LIBRARY COMBINATION: For your convenience the library has combination door locks. The combination is usually changed twice per year; you will be notified of a change to the door code in advance and given the opportunity to sign up for the new combination. The combination is intended for seminarians, staff, faculty, and their spouses; it is NOT to be given to anyone else.

LOAN PERIOD: Campus residents may check out books for the length of the term; all books are due the last day of classes. The loan period for Distance Students is eight weeks. Guest patrons may take items out for four weeks. The loan period for videos (VHS, DVD), music CD’s, audiocassettes, and software is one week.

INTER-LIBRARY LOAN: Books and articles the library does not own may be requested through inter-library loan. The Nashotah House library does not charge a fee for this service; however, if the lending library charges a fee, it will be passed on to the borrower. You can request items through HouseCat’s “Request Item through Interlibrary Loan” button or by emailing loan@nashotah.edu. In addition, some databases allow library patrons to place ILL orders through the database interface. ILL renewals should be requested prior to the due date; a lending library may elect to honor a renewal request or require that the item be returned by the original due date.

OVERDUE BOOKS AND FINES: The library does not levy fines for overdue items unless a user ignores the library’s recall requests. In such a case, fines may be levied up to $1.00 per book per week. In addition, library users who lose, damage, or fail to return a book will be charged full replacement value, plus a fee to cover the library’s costs to reacquire and catalog the book. There may be additional fines for overdue books provided from another library through inter-library loan; these fines are the responsibility of the borrower.

SELF-CHECKOUT: Checking out books is quite easy at the designated terminal located on the west wall of the library’s reference room. Follow the instructions displayed on the terminal screen. If the campus should suffer a power outage or if you have any trouble using the self-checkout terminal, simply use one of the green emergency checkout forms that are always available beside the self-checkout terminal. Follow the instructions printed on the green emergency checkout form exactly and print clearly.

RESHELVING BOOKS: Do not reshelve library materials; please place them on the nearest book cart.

LIBRARY COMPUTERS: The Library has a small computer lab in the current periodicals room for the use of our patrons. MS-Office is installed on all of the computers, and Bible Works is installed on two of them. Although any adult may use the computers, first priority goes to seminarians doing work for their courses here. Recreational and other use is permitted when a specific computer is not being used for the primary purpose. Children are not permitted to use the computers without the close supervision of a parent. The computers are configured to access the Internet through the local network. The default printer for all library computers is the photocopier on the main floor. No one (without explicit permission from the librarian) is permitted to add, update, or delete programs on any library computer. Saving work to the desktop is not advised; users should bring their own USB drive on which to save their work. The library staff regularly checks the desktops of library computers and deletes all items saved there.

WIRELESS NETWORK: The Library has an unsecured wireless network. Most personal laptop users have no difficulty in connecting to this network.

PHOTOCOPIER / SCANNER / PRINTER: A copier is located in the reference room. Black and white copies are 7 cents per page and color copies are 17 cents per page. This machine also has the ability to scan materials to email, which is free of charge. If the machine malfunctions, see library staff. Regular library users will be assigned a code so that their copier use may be billed to their House account. Guests must ask a staff member to set up the copier for guest use. The photocopier also acts as a wireless printer.

When printing you will be prompted for a User ID. Your User ID is the number on your student ID card. Enter the number and click OK; do not change the Account Type or enter an Account ID.

If you would like to print from your own laptop computer, you will need to bring your computer to the office and someone will set it up for you. Normally the process takes between 10-15 minutes.

FOOD AND DRINK: There is a snack area in the same room as the children’s collection on the lower level. Food is restricted to that room, the seminar room, and the library offices. However, drinks in library-approved containers with a screw-on lid are allowed elsewhere in the building.

STUDY CARRELS: Individual study carrels are available to residential students and, in more limited supply, to certain others. Sign up for carrels in the library office. Carrels are private space and other library users are asked to treat them as such. Carrel users should not leave any library items that are not checked out in their carrels overnight: this includes reference books, patristics books, journals, or any other library materials. You are not allowed to eat in your study carrel.

SILENCE: All library users are asked to avoid making unnecessary noise, especially in the study areas.

SEMINAR ROOM: Located on the basement level, this room has tables and chairs, and can be used for small group meetings. There is also a TV and VCR/DVD player which can be used to watch VCR tapes if you do not have a VCR. Ask library staff for assistance.
LIBRARY COLLECTIONS

ARCHIVES: The archives room is a secure facility and is kept locked. If you need to use archival material, see library personnel to schedule an appointment in the archives. Archives materials are NOT to leave the archives room; also, many of the books and documents are too fragile for photocopying.

AUDIOVISUAL: Videos (VHS, DVD), audiotapes, and music CDs are kept on shelves at the west end of the basement level. These items may be borrowed for 7 days.

CHILDREN’S AND YOUNG ADULT COLLECTION: We maintain a collection of children’s and young adult books and movies in the room next to the seminar room. These books may be checked out in the regular way by a parent for a child’s use.

COMPUTER SOFTWARE: Most computer software, which is available for use in the library and/or borrowing, is kept in the library office; these items have “Software” before the call number. The borrowing period for these items is 7 days. Some software is shelved with or in the book that it accompanies and shares the main item’s borrowing limit. Some software is available only for use in the lower level computer lab as installed.

JOURNALS: The most recent issue of a journal is displayed in the periodicals reading room on the lower floor, and other issues for that year are kept behind the display shelf (display shelves tilt upward). Previous years are kept in the periodicals back-stacks on the lower floor. Journals are NOT to leave the library or be kept in carrels overnight.

NEWSPAPERS: Recent copies of the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel are kept in the current periodicals room. The current and old issues of the newspaper should not be removed from the room. The Newspaper Source Plus database is available from the database list on the library web site and contains the full-text of many local, national, and international papers.

PATRISTICS BOOKS: The major series of the works of the early church fathers are located in the cage on the top floor. They have call numbers beginning with PAT. Books from the Patristics collection are NOT to leave the library, and they are NOT to be kept in a carrel overnight; however, there are duplicate copies of some of these in the regular stacks and those duplicates may be checked out. In addition, many works of the early church fathers are available as e-books in the Ebook Central Collection.

REFERENCE MATERIALS: All reference materials are kept in the reference room, and are NOT to leave the reference room. Please do not reshelve reference books; place them on the shelving cart in the reference room.

RESERVE BOOKS: The purpose of reserve is to make books required for a class available equally to all enrolled students. Reserve books are kept in the Reference area and may be used in the library only. Sign out books from reserve by adding your name and the time to the log provided for this purpose. The log is shelved with reserve books on the east wall of the Reference area. Return reserve books within two hours. Reserve books may NOT be taken out of the library.
Online Catalog - HouseCat

HouseCat, the online catalog of the Nashotah House Library, is the best way of determining whether the library owns a particular book, journal, video, or other item. HouseCat also notes an item’s availability (checked-out, on reserve, etc.)

Searching in HouseCat

HouseCat offers two ways of entering a search.

The Google-like basic search allows for searching by keyword:

Enter keywords from title, author, subject.

Specify a format (Everything, Books, Articles, Media)

Click on the search button (the magnifying glass icon).

A list of possible matches will appear.

If you used one of Format Icons to refine your search results, this will be reflected on the left of the screen. Use the Filter controls to refine your search results.

You can also limit the search to items held at Nashotah House.

Click the title of an item to display its full record.

Use these icons to access digital versions of an item.
The advanced search allows for very complex and sophisticated searches that permit the use of a variety of search fields (such as author - select from the drop-down field next to the Keyword field shown below - and title) and search limits (such as format, year and language).
Go to HouseCat and click on the “Sign In” button (top right of screen).

Enter your barcode number and password. (The first time you attempt to access your library account, you will need to activate your account and create a password by clicking on “Set/reset password.” Following the onscreen prompts will cause the system to send an email message to you. Open the email sent to you by the system and follow the message’s instructions to create a personalized password for use with HouseCat.)

Once you log in, the “Sign In” button will display your first name and there will be a drop-down menu icon on the button. From the drop-down menu select “My Account”.

A list of items checked out to you will appear along with their due dates. To renew an item, click on its “Renew” button.
DATABASES

ATLA Serials (ATLAS)

The ATLA Serials (ATLAS) database is available online on our networked computers through the library’s home page. ATLAS has full-text versions of many of the periodicals indexed in the database. The software permits basic or advanced searching using fields (author, title, etc.) and limits (publication year, language, etc.); it also permits printing and saving results to a file. To submit an interlibrary request for an article or book that the library does not own electronically or in print, simply copy the ATLAS citation to an email addressed to loan@nashotah.edu. From outside of the library and the main campus buildings, in order to access the database you will be asked to supply your username and password. Your username is the number on your student ID card and your password is your last name (no capitalization needed).

Other Databases

The library provides access to many other databases through the library’s home page. Among the databases available are New Testament Abstracts, Old Testament Abstracts, Ebook Central Religion and Philosophy Collection (15,900+ full-text books), ATLA Historical Monographs Collections (30,000 full-text books), EBSCOHost Academic Search (full-text), JSTOR Religion & Theology Collection, and Ministry Matters (over 200 e-books including the New Interpreter’s Dictionary of the Bible and the New Interpreter’s Commentary series).

Off-Campus Access to Databases

Off-campus access to the library’s databases is available to registered seminarians, faculty and staff through a proxy server. Users will be challenged for a username and password. In the username box, type the number under the barcode on your Nashotah House ID card. In the password box, type your last name.

Database Tutorials

For help searching the EBSCO databases (i.e. ATLAS, Academic Search Premier, etc.) and in using the Ebook Central Religion and Philosophy Collection, click the Tutorial tab on the main library webpage.
When subject searches in HouseCat or another database fail to yield ample results, users should assume that they have not entered the correct subject heading(s). One way of identifying the correct subject term to enter is to conduct a basic search in HouseCat, or a keyword search in other databases, entering only one or two words. Then, by examining the full details of the items retrieved, it will be possible to identify the correct subject heading. For instance, a search under "America -History" may yield only a few titles, whereas a search under "United States -History" will locate several dozen.

Alternatively, users may consult a work called The Library of Congress Subject Headings (LCSH). LCSH is a multi-volume set of the subject indexing terms used to catalog books. This set is kept in the reference area. [LCSH subject terms are used in HouseCat, WorldCat, and some other databases.] This set contains cross-references for many terms, which will help the user identify the best term to enter into HouseCat or another database. The set also includes hierarchical notes and subdivisions, which can be very useful for in-depth research. Below is an explanation of the hierarchical notes and an example using Lord's Supper.

In the chart below, UF stands for "Used For," so Lord's Supper is used instead of the terms Communion, Eucharist, etc. When users look under any of these terms, they will find a cross-reference to Lord's Supper. BT stands for "Broader Term" in the hierarchy: Sacraments is a broader term than Lord's Supper. RT stands for related term, and NT for narrower term. If users look up monstrance, LCSH will inform them that Lord's Supper is a broader term than monstrance.

DETERMINING WHETHER NASHOTAH HOUSE OWNS A PERIODICAL

HouseCat contains an entry for each print periodical the library owns; however, the library has access to a very large collection of electronic journals. To determine whether the House has electronic access to a given journal via a database, please refer to HouseCat’s A to Z Journal list. To access it, from the “Library Links” menu click “A to Z Journal List):

Click the “Journals” button.
Enter the title of the journal or its ISSN and then click “Search”.

If we have a journal, information about the Library’s holdings will appear, including links to the online version if we have it:

For those journals unavailable at the House in print or electronic form, inter-library loan service is available. Use the inter-library loan feature of HouseCat and some other databases or contact our staff at loan@nashotah.edu.
LIBRARY RESEARCH MANUALS AND GUIDEBOOKS
Below is a list of titles, which explain the various organizational systems found in libraries and the best way to find the sources you need. The pamphlet by James Kennedy is especially useful because it is very brief and devoted particularly to theology. Appendix 2 of Kennedy's work includes a very useful bibliography of theological reference sources. Also included is a list of basic reference sources.

THE ATLA RECIPROCAL BORROWING PROGRAM

This is a program run by the American Theological Library Association (ATLA). Participating libraries in the United States and Canada agree to grant check-out privileges to each other’s patrons.

For a list of participating libraries go to http://tinyurl.com/ATLA-RB-Map

You will need to show your Nashotah House student card. Each participating library determines its lending period. You are responsible for following local library policies and returning materials in a timely fashion.
